Four Prominent Community Leaders Chosen to Receive Honors as MCC Distinguished Alumni

Ezra R. Artis, Sr., Sally Shaheen Joseph, JD, Phil Shaltz and Michael J. Thorp were selected to receive the 2011 Mott Community College's Distinguished Alumni Award.

Family and friends recognized the honor in April with a special awards dinner. Proceeds went to Alumni Association efforts on behalf of MCC students.

According to Lennetta Coney, President of the Foundation for Mott Community College, the individuals were selected by a committee based upon their outstanding achievements as role models and for inspiring excellence in others.

"This year's recipients especially deserved to be recognized, considering the positive impact they each have had on our community and our College," Coney said. "So much of what Mott Community College represents today is due to the influence and inspiration of these individuals.

As Distinguished Alumni, the four honorees will have their photos hung in the Alumni Room

Community leaders get in sync for Mott, Motown & More

This year's Mott, Motown & More brought overwhelmingly positive responses from the sold out audience leaving the show recently: "WOW!" "It was wonderful." "Great Show!" "It gets better year after year."

Director Alfred Bruce Bradley pulled out all the stops to create an unforgettable star-studded performance on Mott's campus, featuring the likes of The Dream Girls, Michael and Janet Jackson, the Temptations, Dolly Parton, and Brenda Lee, just to name a few. The show was dedicated to the late Celia Turner who spearheaded the annual event for MCC.

The two-hour show featured community leaders from throughout the Flint area faking their way through legendary hits to the cheers and laughter of an appreciative audience.

Karen Gatlin, co-anchor of ABC12's News at Noon and First at Four programs, and David Smith, Vice President, Skaff Furniture Carpet One Floor & Home Company, emceed the event featuring local stars Mildred Arbor, one of the original Velveettes, a retired Registered Nurse and MCC alumna; Scott Jenkins, MCC Vice President of Student and Administrative Services as one of the Temptations; Pat Scott, co-owner of local video company Inner City Productions, portraying Diana Ross; Elisabeth Saab, Foundation for MCC board member and chair of this year's Mott, Motown & More, as English singer/songwriter Adele; and Foundation for MCC President Lennetta Coney and her daughters, Erin and Lauren, as Dream Girls.

New York Chef to the Stars dishes up fun with NYC style dinner party on campus

New York Chef to the Stars Daniel Vater brought a gourmet meal and celebrity secrets to nearly 80 Flint area foodies recently when he cut, chopped and pureed a typical New York style dinner party using the tasty secrets he used when cooking for megastars including Oprah, Colin Powell and Donald Trump.

Mott's culinary students joined him in the on-air cooking demonstration as well as several others in the area who have generously given to Mott's Women in Education program. The three-course meal featured the same recipes he used for President Jimmy Carter and First Ladies Hillary Clinton and Laura Bush.

As former executive chef of The Hearst Corporation/Hearst Magazines, Vater earned an outstanding reputation for the meals he prepared for clients including political giants such as Vice President Al Gore and his wife, Tipper, Colin Powell and Condoleeza Rice, and high profile Governors Ann Richards and George Pataki.

Vater, a graduate of Carman-Ainsworth High School, served as executive chef of The Hearst Corporation from 1999 through 2006. While under his direction, Food Management magazine called the in-house dining department of Good Housekeeping magazine "one of the best-kept secrets of corporate dining in New York City." Prior to joining Hearst he served as Executive Chef at the Exchange Club in Wall Street and Delia's – an East Village hot spot throughout the '90s. He also served as catering manager for

"We were thrilled to be able to bring Daniel Vater back to Flint to not only meet with our culinary students, but also provide a truly memorable New York style dinner party for our area residents – and all to the benefit of Women in Education," said Lennetta Coney, President of The Foundation for Mott Community College.

Sponsorships provided hands-on Sous-Chef preparation of the meal with Chef Vater. A number of other take-home extras, including chef aprons and recipes, were included with the ticket prices.

Pamela Morgan-Flavors and as private chef for the Le Frak family and Jann Wenner, the Publisher of Rolling Stone, Us and Men's Fitness magazines. Vater's recipes have been featured in The American Dairy Association's "Real Cheese" advertising campaign and he has consulted on menus for the National Pork Board.

Vater is son to event Chair and Culinary Team Host Rita Vater-Darnton. He also has prepared elaborate meals for the likes of Bette Midler, Barbara Walters and Martha Stewart, all of with whom he has had memorable experiences. He shared details of those experiences as well at the unique fundraiser sponsored by the Foundation for Mott Community College. He is a graduate of The University of Michigan.

Foundation hosts farewell for abc12 GM Tom Bryson

Friends and family of retiring abc12 President/General Manager Tom Bryson found it hard to summarize 25 years of serving the region not just as a newsman, but also as a community leader in a multitude of organizations.

"Tom Bryson's fingerprints are all over this community," said Lennetta Coney, President of the Foundation for MCC. "As soon as he announced his retirement, people began contacting me to spearhead an effort to recognize his quarter of a century of serving and leadership."

She assembled a team to honor him in a way she knew would be meaningful to him as well - a community farewell where all proceeds will be given to Mott's Media Arts and Entertainment program.

The farewell dinner was held at Warwick Hills Golf & Country Club in Grand Blanc. Sherm Mitchell provided musical entertainment for the evening.

Mr. Bryson was recognized in 2010 by the Michigan Association of Broadcasters Lifetime Achievement Award. He has served as President and CEO of WJRT-TV, in Flint, for more than 25 years. Bryson graduated from the University of Missouri's School of Journalism. Upon graduation, one of his first assignments was with Group W Radio in Washington, D.C. His assignment was to cover the "I Have a Dream" speech of Martin Luther King, Jr. Since then, Bryson has served in the broadcasting community at a variety of stations across the country, including Group W News Bureau in Washington, D.C., WJZ-TV in Baltimore, Maryland, KYW-TV in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, WTEN-TV in Albany, New York and finally WJRT-TV in Flint, Michigan, which he has called home for the last 25 years.

Mr. Bryson's commitment to Michigan broadcasting and to his community is unmatched, Coney said. In addition to his daily duties at WJRT-TV, Bryson has held many leadership positions within the Michigan broadcasting industry. He has served as the President of the MAB Board of Directors, Chairman for the MAB Foundation, and has continued as an active MAB member and broadcasting advocate. Additionally, Bryson has served in several leadership roles for a number of local and statewide civic organizations including: The United Way of Genesee County, The School of Health Professions and Studies for the University of Michigan - Flint, Goodwill Industries of Mid-Michigan, Genesys Charity Classic, Kiwanis Club of Flint, the Flint Salvation Army, the Flint Area Chamber of Commerce, The Genesee County Focus Council and the Genesee County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Bryson was inducted into the Michigan Broadcasting Hall of Fame in 2007.

From the President's Desk:

For several months now we have heard rhetoric suggesting that the economic struggles facing our state and the nation are due to underworked and overpaid public employees. Nothing could be further from the truth. We know that the former economic dominance of this state and the nation has been turned upside down because of foreign competition and fundamental changes in the manufacturing environment. We have felt the direct impact of this at MCC in the form of reduced state aid to education. We know the negative consequences on auto sales of a near depression level national economy, and have seen the impact of loose credit standards on housing prices and how that translates into losses in property taxes that help subsidize tuition for our students.

None of these drivers of economic performance has anything to do with the performance of public sector employees. I know that our employees are dedicated public servants who chose their field of work because they want to make a difference in people's lives. They are caring, compassionate servants who give of themselves every day to make our College a better place. And this is the reason I write this letter today - to let you know how much I value each of them and to share with you how proud I am to be associated with such a professional group of dedicated public servants.

It is certainly the case that, because our economic reality has changed, we must also continue to change. But we have been doing this at MCC for many years, with everyone's help, and it has enabled us to weather the storms that come our way. By working together to maintain our financial and organizational stability using a balanced approach to financial management, we continue to do the best we can for students, employees and our community with the resources available to us.

Mott is a superb organization, treasured by our students and the entire community - and our employees leadership and service are key factors in our success and reputation. So, to all our faculty and staff members I enthusiastically say: Your efforts, time and professionalism are appreciated, and I thank you for all you do! I will continue to be a strong advocate for you, and all of public education, at both the state and national level.

Sincerely,
Dr. Dick Shaink
