HIST-261 United States Labor History

This would change HIST-261 from a 4 credit hour course to a 3 credit hour course. After three attempts to run the class as a 4 credit hour course, only one attempt was successful in attracting enough students. Despite the pedagogical advantages of running HIST-261 as a 4 credit hour course, it is simply not attracting enough students. HIST-261 attracted more students when it was previously a 3 credit hour course and is believed to be in the best interest of the college to return HIST-261 to a 3 credit hour course.
