MCC moves to tele-work and tele-learning until April 5

(FLINT, Mich., March 16, 2020) – Mott Community College (MCC) has moved to a tele-work and tele-learning office and classroom environment at all sites from March 16 through April 5. While there will be no in-person classes, meetings or events, services of the College will still be available via email and by phone. Given the changing nature of this crisis, MCC students and employees are strongly encouraged to regularly check their MCC email.

Already scheduled online courses resumed on Monday, March 16 as planned. All classes will resume in various forms of alternative delivery on March 23 through April 5.

There will be daily in-person "transition" sessions through Friday, March 20 in Prael College Center, Room 2270 for students needing assistance with navigating and using e-learning tools (these sessions are limited in seating to provide proper social distancing). Sessions will be added based on demand. Students can sign up to get help with technical support for tele-learning by visiting <https://mojo.mcc.edu/> click the blue tab "new ticket" and complete the request field.

Additionally, the Student Computer Lab CM1135 will be open March 16-21 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday to help students prepare for the transition to tele-learning.

Mott Community College will also be responding to questions and comments received through our official Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram accounts.

For help with anything else students are experiencing due to this change, students are encouraged to go to <https://4me.mcc.edu/student/Pages/default.aspx> and click "My Compass." You can "raise your hand" for assistance. Instructions on how to use My Compass will be on the new COVID-19 webpage under "IMPORTANT Student Information." You may still use our social media platforms and call center, but expect those services to experience higher than normal traffic.

Visit the College's COVID-19 page which has important information and resources for students at <https://www.mcc.edu/campus-safety/covid-19-coronavirus.shtml#breadcrumbs2>

REMINDER: The College has cancelled all events and gatherings regardless of their size through the end of April 2020. Events related directly to spring 2020 graduation are still considered to be scheduled (not yet canceled), but are being assessed daily for their feasibility. Students, faculty and staff should continue to monitor their MCC email and for all updates. The public is encouraged to visit www.mcc.edu/Coronavirus for the most recent notifications about College operations.

College leadership will continue to monitor and assess the situation. Because the situation continues to be fluid and changes rapidly, plans may be altered daily. Please review frequently the MCC COVID-19 Information webpage to gather the latest information about College operations.
