Keynote Address: Jimmie Gardner

Jimmie C. Gardner is a motivational speaker, emotional intelligence coach, and social justice activist. He draws on the values and life lessons acquired throughout his childhood, professional baseball career, and wrongful conviction to inspire others to thrive despite life's challenges. His ability to endure unfathomable life circumstances demonstrates the transformative power of faith, self-awareness, and positive thinking. Born in Dawson, Georgia, Jimmie was raised by his great aunt in Tampa, Florida. Growing up in Tampa provided numerous opportunities to excel, both academically and athletically. Jimmie's positivity and endurance are a testament to his faith, his upbringing, and his unconquerable spirit. He sees every day as a blessing from God and lives his life to help others attain the spiritual, mental, and physical health that are the keys to happiness and success.

The MLK planning committee is painstakingly making every attempt to coordinate an in person event that adheres to COVID protocol in order to keep guests safe if they choose to attend in person. We realize that if the COVID rates continue to climb, there is a possibility that we may suspend the in person option and revert to an entirely online event. Knowing this, we trust you understand and will still continue to support this important event that yields scholarships to deserving students.
